EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT HEADQUARTERS

Emergency Management Headquarters are set up to monitor disaster risk reduction activities, coordinate and manage emergencies for:

- territory of the Republic of Serbia – the Republic Emergency Management Headquarters, established by the Government;
- territory of the autonomous province – the Provincial Emergency Management Headquarters, established by the executive body of the autonomous province;
- territory of the administrative district - the District Emergency Management Headquarters, established by Republic Emergency Management Headquarters;
- territory of the city - the City Emergency Management Headquarters, established by the competent body of the city;
- territory of the municipality – the Municipal Emergency Management Headquarters, established by the competent body of the municipality.

The Emergency Management Headquarters establishes the expert-operational teams as its auxiliary expert bodies.

The Commander of the Emergency Management Headquarters is:
- the Minister responsible for the Interior, for the Republican Emergency Management Headquarters;
- the president of the provincial government, for the Provincial Emergency Management Headquarters;
- the head of the administrative district, for the District Emergency Management Headquarters;
EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT HEADQUARTERS

- mayor of the city, for City Emergency Management Headquarters;
- president of the Municipality, for the Municipal Emergency Management Headquarters.

The Head of the Republic Emergency Management Headquarters is the Head of the Competent Service.

The Heads of Emergency Management Headquarters are representatives of the Competent Service.

The deputy head of a City Emergency Management Headquarters, i.e. Municipal Emergency Management Headquarters is a deputy head of the administrative district, i.e. mayor, or a member of a city or municipal council.

In the event of the dismissal of the Emergency Management Headquarters, the Republican Emergency Management Headquarters shall form the Temporary Emergency Management Headquarters from among its members, employees of the Ministry, heads of entities of special importance for protection and rescue and other experts from the territory of local self-government units.

The Republican Emergency Management Headquarters, in accordance with the assessment, establishes the Operational Headquarters as its subsidiary operational body for certain types of hazards, which is in continuous assembly at the time of the emergency.
